

SAVING GRACE 1 () Page 1 OF 2

HER:

Where have you been?

HIM:

Nowhere.

HER:

What have you been up to?

HIM:

Nothing.

HER:

Well, I'm glad we cleared that up.

HIM:

I was working up at the house. I lost track of time. Sorry.

HER:

I waited for ages in the pub. Didn't Grace tell you?

HIM:

She did. I was really, really busy. I'm really sorry. Look, I've got something to tell you.

HER:

Good, 'cause I've got something to tell you too.

HIM:

No, let me tell you my thing first because it's really quite good.

HER:

So is mine.

HIM:

Right, you go first.

HER:

No, you go first.

HIM:

Alright. I'm moving all the plants up to the lighthouse. We're going to grow them up there really quickly. There's this special way of growing them. It's called hydroponics. You know how Grace is a really good gardener? It's going to get us out of all our money problems.

HER:

Us?

HIM:

Well, me and Grace. It's simple. It's perfect. We sell it and anything we make over what she needs we split 50/50. Look, it's extreme but it's smart! I don't want to leave here to get work and this way I get to stay.

HER:

Until you go to jail.

HIM:

I'm not going to jail.

HER:

Matthew, smoking weed is one thing. A large scale cultivation is another. I'm surprised at Grace. It's really stupid.

HIM:

No, it's not really stupid. It's really smart. I think it would be different if it were your idea.

HER:

Yeah, you're right! When you're being chased around your prison cell by a 250 pound bank robber with a stiffy, I'll be sitting here thinking "Why couldn't it have been me? Why couldn't I have had that brilliant idea?" You've been going on about how unhappy you are about losing your job and what's your solution? Crime! You get in deeper and you drag Grace down with you. Matthew, you are such an idiot!
