

CAMPUS JUSTICE 1-1 J.M.

SHE

Hey, what's wrong with your knee?

HE

It's an old injury, but the football doc says it can be fixed these days.

SHE

Cool, you're on the football team? (beat) Oh, by the way, I'm Mary.

HE

Ah, I'm David. It's nice to meet you. I'm not on the football team. Actually, I'm one of the equipment guys, washing and folding and handing out stuff.

SHE

Stupid game, anyway.

HE

Yeah, amazing they sell all those tickets. Are you a freshmen?

SHE

Yes. You?

HE

Yup, me too. I don't mind it, I was the equipment guy in high school. It's a way to get to know people.

SHE

You don't seem like you'd have much trouble in that area.

HE

You're an exception, it's easy to talk to women who talk to me first. Did your folks go here?

CAMPUS JUSTICE 1-2

SHE

No, I'm the first in my family to go to college.

HE

Oh. Cool. I got in as an alumnae admission, but I'll have to work to stay here. They forgot to tell them to give me the easy courses.

SHE

Yeah, you have to study, it's not like high school--I mean, in high school I got straight 'A's' and I never ever hardly ever studied. But my mom told me the party's over--I'd have to work for those grades.

HE

Uh, oh. A brainy one.

SHE

No, I'm not brainy. I just have this bulldog DNA in me...My mom says I've always been like that.

HE

You gotta be the best-looking bulldog on record.

SHE

Well, I hope you can get your knee all fixed up.

HE

Oh, yeah. But it always feels better when I'm around a pretty girl. So if you really care, you'll get together with me and hang out. We'll go eat something, and we'll do something, and we'll, you know, talk. You got a car?

SHE

Smooth talker. I've got a car but it only works if it's in a good mood.

CAMPUS JUSTICE 1-3

Cars really like me...

SHE

I'll think about it. (pause) Okay, I thought about it.

HE

So you will?

SHE

Uh huh.

HE

Tomorrow, seven o'clock. I'll meet you right here.

SHE

Seven-thirty. G'night, David.

HE

G'night, Mary. Nice to meet you.
