INT. ADJUDICATOR'S OFFICE, IMMIGRATION, VANCOUVER -- DAY

49

START

The Adjudicator is trying to survive a withering blast from Sergeant Macavoy.

MACAVOY

...everything's wrong with this one. It's a murder case for chrissakes. Four bodies. Truck driver on the run. That by itself- but we've got a couple Arabs right in the middle of it. It smells worse than that truck.

AJUDICATOR

I can't deport her for a smell. Her security check came up clean.

MACAVOY

(ballistic)

Of course it's clean! These are all phony names. Phony ID. The security check is clean because these people don't exist anywhere!

(tries to get a grip)

I don't want her deported. I just want her held.

(new idea)

She's a flight risk.

AJUDICATOR

You'll have to prove that. She has a legitimate claim. I'm still bound by immigration law.

MACAVOY

Here's the CSIS boys. They're just going to take it right out of our hands.

Two trench coats from CSIS arrive and take up positions inside the door.

MACAVOY (CONT'D)

(to CSIS)

Yours.

CSIS 1

We've had a hearing of our own. Held in camera before Judge Arthur Cumming of the Federal Court. We are now prepared to hold her indefinitely.

AJUDICATOR

Why?

CONT...

CSIS 1

The dead husband is a terrorist.
There were messages sewn into his clothing.

News to Macavoy.

MACAVOY

What messages. We weren't told-

CSIS 1

They're being translated. Bona fides to whoever it is they were supposed to meet.

Everyone is skeptical.

CSIS 1 (CONT'D)

So we want you to let her go.

Off Macavoy's look.

CSIS 1 (CONT'D)

The truth is out there.

INT. RAMATOU/YOUSSEF'S HOUSE -- DAY

50

RAMATOU is preparing to go out: COLA nestled in a carrying shawl on her back, basket to balance on her head. PHILOMENA plays by the door.

MOSES enters from the back, a terrifying apparition of fear and agitation.

MOSES

Where are your children?

RAMATOU

Here.

MOSES

Noba. Where's Noba?

RAMATOU

Playing at school. What happened to you?

MOSES

It's coming. It's here. The hills are full of tanks and soldiers. You have to leave. Now. Get ready.

He is gone out the front door.
