

LIBBY & ERIC 1-3

HE

You've been in jail?

SHE

Prison, actually. Jail is different. But I was in jail before I was in prison.

HE

What did you do to end up in prison? Not pay your parking tickets?

SHE

(pause) I was convicted of murdering my husband.

HE

You're kidding.

SHE

"Sliced and Diced" is what the papers called it.

HE

You're not kidding..... Oh, here comes your print out.

SHE

Good. It's been a while since I've had a drink... so where's this neat little bar you know?

HE

Look, I just remembered... I... I have a very important ah... meeting to go to... really. Sorry. Gotta go. See ya.

SHE

Yeah, right... see ya.

HE

Zip Code?... How about her social security number?
That way we could run a credit report and it'll give us her address.

SHE

Sorry. (beat) Hey, wait a minute, she was a teacher--- maybe we can check state certification boards.

HE

Done deal. Uh huh... Uh huh... stuffs comin' up. (beat)
Now then, when this thing has done it's printing, we could go to a neat little bar I know and...

SHE

Sounds great, but I....

HE

But you have a boyfriend, right?

SHE

No. It sounds great, but...

HE

It can't be because you have to wash your hair.

SHE

No. Ah... it sounds great, but... I'd better check with my Parole Officer.

HE

Your who?

SHE

My Parole Officer. He's very strict about curfew and---
