JENNIFER

That works.

TYLER

Good luck with all this. You can do it.

JENNIFER

Thanks.

With a parting hug, Tyler steps off, leaving Jennifer to fight this alone.

INT. REC ROOM - DAY

88

Alone, Alex works on the vending machine. He slaps an "Out of Order" sign on it, leaving his tool box there, as he exits.

INT. HALLWAY - REHAB FACILITY - DAY

89

Alex sneaks along, knowing exactly where he's going.

90

INT. JENNIFER'S ROOM - DAY

90

Alex opens a drawer in the dresser and finds a make-up bag. He unzips the bag and slides in several pills, then closes the drawer, leaving it slightly ajar.

NURSE JUDE (O.S.)

I've told you you're not allowed to be down here.

ALEX

Sorry, I got turned around. I went out to my truck to get this.

He shows her a wrench-like tool in his pocket.

ALEX

Somebody really jammed the machine up.

NURSE JUDE

Then get back to it, fix it, and get out.

ALEX

Why do I get the feeling you don't like me? Is it my hair?

(adjusting his hair)

I can comb it this way too.

NURSE JUDE

Keep moving.

Alex passes Jennifer.

ALEX

How are ya?

JENNIFER

I are.

ALEX

Good to know. Didn't recognize you without the towel.

JENNIFER

Creeeeepy.

ALEX

Seriously, how you doing?

JENNIFER

I'm getting that seriously claustrophobic feeling, but I've got some outside support, so... okay, I guess.

ALEX

I hear ya. Just be prepared for some of that outside support to kind of fade away. Always happens.

JENNIFER

That's cheerful.

ALEX

That's fact. But the number one cure for that claustrophobic mood is to just get out. Sneak out, hop the fence. Just to be you again, even for a second.

JENNIFER

And it's all good 'til you get caught.
