

Friends With Money 3

Olivia

So, it's a six-week course, and when it's over...

Franny

You have to take a test.

Olivia

Yeah, but when I'm done, I get a certificate that tells me I can work in a gym.

Franny

How was the sex?

Olivia

It was fun. He doesn't look at me, though.

Franny

Oh, hate sex?

Olivia

No. Anyway, so the course is $1800. And I'd pay it back over a period of time.

Franny

That's a lot of money.

Olivia

But I'd make it back.

Franny

Why don't you just go back to teaching? Teach poor kids.

Olivia

It's not my calling.

Franny

I'm just sort of confused because you're my only friend who doesn't like to exercise, and you're gonna be a trainer.

Olivia

What? I don't understand. What's the... I mean... Do accountants have to love numbers? Do nannies have to love children?

Franny

Well, yeah.

Olivia

Franny, if you had to work, then what would you do?

Franny

I feel like I work. I feel like taking care of my kids is work.

Olivia

But you have full time help.

Franny

It's true.

(BEAT)

Are you trying to make me feel bad?

Olivia

No. I don't think.

(BEAT)

I'm sorry.

Franny

What about Christine?

Olivia

I know. What are they doing to that house?

Franny

It's sort of sad.

Olivia

Yeah, I mean... they should be in couples therapy, not expanding their home.

Franny

You know... I would feel a lot better about giving you the money if you went to a therapist and figured out what you really wanna do.

Olivia

So, is that a "No" on giving me the money for the training?

Franny

No, I'm not saying that. I mean, I have to talk to Matt about it anyway.

Olivia

Do you have to check with Matt on lending me money for therapy?

Franny

Well...

Olivia

Franny, you know... you buy your 2-year-old daughter $80 shoes from France and you're giving me a hard time.

Franny

That's Matt. That's not me.

Olivia

I gotta go.

Franny

You're leaving?

Olivia

You know, you just don't understand what it's like. And before Matt, you would've lent me the money. It's not even his money. It's your money.

Franny

Of course it's his money. We're married.
