

Give me the Valium

Daisy

We don't need your daddy's money.

Lisa

Just give me the fucking Valium

Daisy

What's this, huh?

Lisa

Let go

Daisy

What's this? Trying your new silver?

Lisa

Get the fuck off me

Daisy

Less appealing for daddy, huh.

Lisa

Look at your own arm asshole.

Daisy

I'm sick Daisy, we know that. But here you are, in so called recovery, playing Betty Crocker cut up like a goddamn Virginia ham.

Lisa

Would you just stop it ok?

Daisy

Help me understand this cause I thought you didn't do Valium. Tell me how the safety net is working for you. Tell me you don't take that blade and drag it across your skin and pray for courage to press down. Tell me how your daddy helps you cope with that. Illuminate me.

Lisa

Daisy

My daddy loves me.

Lisa

I bet. With every inch of his manhood.

Daisy

I'm going to sleep now. (beat) Please be gone in the morning. (beat) You're just jealous Lisa, because I got better. Because I was released, because I have chance, and a life.

Lisa

They did not release you because your better, they just gave up. You call this a life? Taking daddy's money, buying your dollies and your knickknacks, eating his fucking chicken and fattening up like a prize fucking heifer. You can change the scenery but not the fucking situation, and the warden makes house calls. And everybody knows, everybody knows, that he fucks you. But they don't know, is that you like it. Hm, you like it

Daisy

Shut the fuck up

Lisa

But hey man, its cool its ok, its fine, its fucking fine. A man is a dick, a man and a dick. He's a chicken, he's a dad, a valium speculum, whatever, hm, whatever. You like being Mrs. Random, probably all you ever known, hm?

Daisy

Have fun in Florida
