DONNA

You're not the only one who feels cheated. I got short-changed too.
(sitting back down)
What do I do now?

DR LEE

It's a part of life. You pick up the pieces and deal with it.

Donna takes in his comment.

97 INT. JENNIFER'S ROOM - DAY 97

Jennifer SLAMS her door, locking it, cradling her knees.

98 INT. DONNA'S CAR - DAY 98

Parked outside of rehab, Donna HITS the steering wheel, frustrated. Angry. Where does she go from here?

99 INT. HALLWAY - REHAB - DAY 99

Zoe tries the door to her room, but it's locked. She knocks.

Jennifer?

INTERCUT:

100 INT. JENNIFER'S ROOM - DAY 100

Jennifer leans against the door.

JENNIFER

I just need a minute.

ZOE

You're not doing anything stupid are you?

JENNIFER

No. I just want to be alone.

ZOE

People're most stupid, when they're alone.

JENNIFER

You don't get it.

ZOE

PRETTY LITTLE ADDICT

ZOE

Don't get what? That you're all pissed off?

JENNIFER

Forget it.

ZOE

I get that you at least had a dad at some point... and you still have a mom who's at least trying. I had step-dads who did things to me, you wouldn't do to your worst enemy. So before you go getting all alone and woe is me, just know everybody's got a story.

Jennifer opens the door.

JENNIFER

I'm sorry that happened to you.

ZOE

Yeah. Me too.

Jennifer motions to hug Zoe, but the girl backs away. An awkward beat until they hear--

NURSE JUDE (O.S.)

Jennifer?

They turn to see Nurse Jude.

NURSE JUDE

You have a visitor.

Jennifer turns back to Zoe, feeling a little guilty.

ZOE

Go on. See as many people as you can before they stop showing up.
